A Marine Food Chain

In the ocean living things have adaptation. An adaptation is that animals adopt the environment to survive. One example is a Woobegong shark. The Woobegong goes to the bottom of the sea and its mouth looks like it has seaweed on it. It helps it to catch fish because the fish think it is a good place to rest. This adaptation is good for the Woobegong shark to catch fish.

Don't touch me

Many animals are indangered. Indangered means that there's not many left!!!!!!! People have been hanting sea animals for atleast 100 years!!! And I think it is time to stop!!! We allso need to Stop paluting the osean!!!

Oceans are all around the world.
Some of the biggest oceans are called Pacific Ocean, Indian Ocean,
Atlantic Ocean.
